

Information Security for Bank Employees (Webinar)

July 30, 2014 ☐ 3:30pm-5:00pm

Banks are expected to train all employees each year on current information security topics. There is also a new requirement to provide Corporate Account Takeover (CATO) training to all employees. This webinar is designed to provide basic information security and CATO training for employees at all levels. Topics covered include:

- The current threat landscape
- Recent breach information
- Corporate Account Takeover: the need for banks to protect, detect and respond
- Employee responsibilities for maintaining proper security
