Thursday, September 13, 2018

7:30am-8:30am Breakfast featuring Sponsor Spotlight - Grand Ballroom South

8:30am-9:30am Survival of the Community Bank - Grand Ballroom North
Jeff Fair, American Planning Corporation

Have community banks escaped the frying pan only to find themselves in the midst of the fire? Changes in regulatory behavior, coupled with core deposit funding challenges and increasing loan demand pose significant risks for many community banks. In this session, we will explore various ways to address and overcome these challenges.

9:45am-10:45am The Health of the Economy - Grand Ballroom North
Craig Dismuke, Vining Sparks

The U.S. economy was firing on all cylinders coming into 2018. The consumer and business investment continue to drive growth, both of which should benefit even further this year from tax reform. Additionally, with the passage of the 2018 Bipartisan Budget Act, government spending is now expected to boost growth. With economic tailwinds as the backdrop, the markets are becoming more concerned about the risks of inflation. Additionally, amidst strong growth and heightened risks to inflation, the Fed will likely be as committed to hiking rates in 2018 as they were in 2017. In this presentation, we will discuss these dynamics, the resulting financial market volatility, and our longer-term outlook for interest rates.

10:30am-1:00pm Guest Program: Cooking Class & Lunch - See Page 4 for more information

11:00am-12:00pm Self-Service First: A Study of What Today's Consumer Requires - Grand Ballroom North
Fred Wheeler, Automated Transaction Delivery

Today's consumer wants convenience... This not only means location but how they are served. Every consumer service industry ..Travel, Retail, Food and Beverage, is using or rapidly developing the same method to meet these consumer needs..."Self Service First Assistance Where Needed". This presentation is how technology enables this latest transformation and how Financial Institutions can benefit from them.
