Joan Woodward, Executive Vice President of Public Policy at Travelers, will share her economic, public policy and political outlook in this data-driven analytical presentation. She will also discuss the most pressing challenges facing the new Congress and the Biden Administration in 2023. What do higher interest rates, coupled with the highest inflation rates in 40 years mean for your business and can the U.S. avoid a recession? Will legislation recently passed by Congress, such as the Inflation Reduction Act and the CHIPS Act, bring relief to consumers and businesses? Joan will explore those issues, as well as the outcome of the mid-term elections and what it might mean for insurance, tax policy, and the economy.

- How the New Small Business Loan Data Collection and Reporting Rules Impact Your Institution
(Grand Ballroom C) (CLE approved 1 hour)
Kimberly Boatwright, Compliance Resource, LLC
On August 31, 2021, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) published a 918-page notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) to implement Section 1071 of the Dodd-Frank Act. Section 1071 amends the Equal Credit Opportunity Act (ECOA) to require financial institutions to collect and report certain data in connection with credit applications made by women- or minority-owned businesses and small businesses.
 - A final rule is expected by no later than January 2023.
 - Compliance with a final rule will be mandatory 18 months after publication.The industry is in full agreement that implementation of the

2023 CONVENTION AGENDA

All sessions to be held on 8th floor of the hotel unless otherwise noted new rule will consume extensive time and resources. There are critical steps which should be completed well before the mandatory compliance date. Completion of these steps will ease the regulatory burden and make the implementation process flow more smoothly.

- Directors in a Digital Age (CLE approved 1 hour)

(Eisenhower Room)

Trent Fleming, Trent Fleming Consulting

Increasingly, bank customers, both business and consumer, are choosing electronic delivery channels over traditional branch banking. To support these demands, banks are investing in sophisticated delivery systems to provide real time access for customers. Payment methods ranging from wire transfer, to ACH, to debit cards create the potential for significant fraud loss, and must also be managed to mitigate risk. For businesses, corporate account takeover is a major threat. On the consumer side, card data breaches, and identity theft loom large as sources of loss for banks. This session will help you to understand the risk and exposure presented by today's on-line environment, and provide guidance in addressing and managing such risks.

11:45am-1:00pm Exhibit Hall Lunch (Grand Ballroom AB)

Join us for lunch in the exhibit hall as we close out the exhibit hall part of the convention. We will draw for exhibitor door prizes and the Grand Prize Drawing ($1000 Travel Gift Certificate) at the end of lunch.

1:00pm-2:00pm Concurrent Sessions (Choose One):

- Interest Rates and Liquidity Risk (CLE approved 1 hour)

(Eisenhower Room)

Rob Strand, American Bankers Association

Interest rates soared to 16-year highs, leading to unprecedented unrealized securities losses and luring away pandemic "surge deposits" unless the bank pays up to retain them. This environment poses new challenges for balance sheet rate and liquidity risks.

- Regulatory and Litigation Activity Regarding Overdraft Fees, NSF Fees, and Unauthorized Transactions (Grand Ballroom C) (CLE approved 1 hour)

Fred Burnside, Davis Wright Tremaine LLP

This presentation will address the significant increase in class action litigation and regulatory scrutiny of overdraft and NSF fees, as well as Electronic Funds Transfer Act claims, and how to minimize risks and exposure.

5:00pm-6:30pm FNBB Cocktail

Reception (Vanderbilt Terrace)

6:30pm-9:00pm "Bankers, Bluegrass & Boots"

(Seely Pavilion, Ground level)

Join in for an evening of bluegrass music, dinner and fun, including axe-throwing, cornhole, caricature artists and more. Suggested attire: Casual, wear your jeans, boots and plaid! Seely Pavilion is an indoor/outdoor venue on the grounds of the hotel.

9:30am-10:30am General Session (Grand Ballroom C)

Operational Efficiency Self-Assessment

Trent Fleming, Trent Fleming Consulting (CLE approved 1 hour)

Whether recognized or not, productivity - or the lack thereof - continues to impact bank operations. This session is designed to address key ways that managers can assess and improve the operations of their departments, using techniques that industry experts apply when performing operational efficiency studies. Key areas to be addressed include staffing, technology utilization, planning efforts, and measurement/reporting issues. Participants will leave with the tools to evaluate and improve productivity.

10:30am-10:45am Break

10:45am-11:45am General Session (Grand Ballroom C)

Boost the Bullpen

Colonel Arthur J. Athens, USMCR (Retired) (CLE approved 1 hour)

Every organization needs to develop a "bullpen of leaders" . . . individuals who are well-prepared to leave the bullpen and "head to the pitcher's mound" to assume new and more complex roles and responsibilities. The right blueprint for this developmental process is essential to create that deep bullpen . . . one well-positioned to face the challenges of today and tomorrow. This presentation will outline the three key principles that will help produce a winning bullpen.

11:45am Convention Adjourns

Convention Attire

Attire for all convention events is business casual. For the Wednesday evening event, "Bankers, Bluegrass & Boots", suggested dress is casual, wear your jeans, boots and plaid!
